

Have your say

Party conference gives you a chance to have your say on Liberal Democrat policies and campaigns and at the same time, is a highly enjoyable event. Unlike the other main parties, Lib Dem party policy and strategy are determined through policy and business motions debated and voted on by conference, from which election manifestos are drawn up and campaigning priorities decided.

To submit your motion, you can download a submission form from our website which also explains who can submit motions – the main routes are by local parties and by any 25 members. The deadline for submitting motions to the Spring Conference is noon on 6 January 2010. See the online form for more details at www.scotlibdems.org.uk/conference or email perth2010@scotlibdems.org.uk for advice.

For information about holding a fringe meeting or having a stand in the exhibition just call 0131 337 2314

A Fresh Start for Scotland

Dear Friend,

I hope you will join us as our Spring Conference. Conference has something for everyone – three days' worth of lively policy debate, fantastic networking opportunities and a wide variety of events and discussions hosted by charities, interest groups and businesses.

This will be the last chance to meet before the election and at that election we will be the only party offering real change for our country.

This Labour government has left our economy in disarray and has run out of ideas and out of road. They can no longer deliver the progressive change our country needs.

The Tories offer nothing more than false change. They will not take the steps that must be taken to rebuild our economy, society and politics.

Only the Liberal Democrats are committed to putting the environment first as we rebuild our economy, cleaning up politics by reforming our electoral system, and changing the tax system to ensure the rich pay their fair share and nobody pays any income tax on the first £10,000 they earn.

I look forward to seeing you in Perth.

Best wishes,

Tavish Scott MSP

Leader of the Scottish Liberal Democrats

A conference for everyone

Following recent changes to the Party's constitution every member who registers to attend conference has a right to vote, not just representatives chosen by local parties. Why not come along and play your part in shaping our party's policy? It also gives you the chance to meet our parliamentarians and councillors from all over Scotland.

A busy, lively and fun weekend

Conference offers you the opportunity to debate our party's policies but also gives you the chance to take part in the many fringe and social events that are taking place through out the day. Whether you are interested in discussions on topical issues, learning something new in one of the many training sessions or simply going to one of the receptions to meet up with friends, there is something for everyone.

Bring a friend for free*

Following on from the success of the scheme introduced in 2009, if you register for Scottish Liberal Democrat Spring Conference in Perth you will get a 'Guest Pass' so you can bring a friend for FREE!*

It allows one person into the conference venue and the fringe events. Guests are not permitted to vote or to speak in the debate and would need to leave the hall for any private business.

* No elected Liberal Democrats (Councillor, MSP, MP or MEP) can attend on your guest pass, neither can anyone who attended conference in the last 3 years. It is open to non party members.
